Useful resources

We have some fantastic free-to-download resources which are the ideal support for you when getting up and running with AAC or when supporting others who may be new to AAC!

AAC Participation Plan
A one-page planning sheet to help you select vocabulary to model, which addresses various language functions within everyday routines.

AAC Activities Plan
This resource allows you to take a preferred toy or activity and think about how you can target different language functions within it.

Chat Editor / Pass Software
This free software allows you to replicate vocabularies from either our NovaChat and Via devices and TouchChat and LAMP WFL apps (Chat Editor) or our Accent Devices (PASS Software). Perfect to learn vocabularies, model language or create teaching resources. You can load in a person's vocabulary so you can edit it away from their device.

Playground Modelling Boards
Giant modelling boards of our popular vocabularies for communication and modelling language in the playground!

Lesson Plans and activities
Monthly activities which are seasonal, fun and perfect for modelling language! The lesson plan has activity ideas, core words and language functions to model, and sample sentence ideas for sentences - up to three key words. Plus vocabulary 'cheat sheets' too!

Teaching Core Words Across the Day
A collection of 50 core words which can be used on their own or together to form short sentences. Each word has examples of how to model it, with ideas for generalisation. There are common activities to model core words and some early goal ideas to support development of skills.

Activity First Worksheet
A one-page planning sheet to help you select vocabulary to model, which addresses various language functions, within set activities.

Home Implementation Core Vocab Activities
A great resource to help you think about the core words you can model at one, two or three-word level during home-based activities.

AAC Bootcamp
A summary of some helpful 'Do's & Don'ts' when supporting someone who uses AAC.

Paper-based Support Books
A collection of our most popular vocabularies are now available as paper based books! Perfect for modelling or as a backup to any high-tech system. Many are now fillable allowing easy personalisation.

If you have any issues at all or would like more support with these or other resources you can contact us on 01733 370470 or info@liberator.co.uk and we will happily help!
